- Expectations and aspirations after the success of escape

- 〈1〉 Something inside told me that by now someone had discovered my escape.
- 〈2〉 It chilled me greatly to think that they would capture me and take me back to that awful place.
- 〈3〉 So, I decided to walk only at night until I was far from the town.
- 〈4〉 After three nights' walking, I felt sure that they had stopped chasing me.
- 〈5〉 I found a deserted cottage and walked into it.
- 〈6〉 Tired, I lay down on the floor and fell asleep.
- 〈7〉 I awoke to the sound of a far away church clock, softly ringing seven times and noticed that the sun was slowly rising.
- 〈8〉 As I stepped outside, my heart began to pound with anticipation and longing.
- 〈9〉 The thought that I could meet Evelyn soon lightened my walk.

- Dave to Surf for First Time

- <1> The waves were perfect for surfing.
- <2> Dave, however, just could not stay on his board.
- <3> He had tried more than ten times to stand up but never managed it.
- <4> He felt that he would never succeed.
- <5> He was about to give up when he looked at the sea one last time.
- <6> The swelling waves seemed to say, "Come on, Dave.
- <7> One more try!" Taking a deep breath, he picked up his board and ran into the water.
- <8> He waited for the right wave.
- <9> Finally, it came.
- <10> He jumped up onto the board just like he had practiced.
- <11> And this time, standing upright, he battled the wave all the way back to shore.
- <12> Walking out of the water joyfully, he cheered, "Wow, I did it!"

- the regret of not being able to venture

❶ Maia chattered happily about her skis while my thoughts drifted to past ski trips with my husband.

❷ I wistfully recalled the pain in my tired legs and my snow-chilled hands the time we pushed on through bad weather in hope of shelter, and then how we crawled, half-frozen and hungry, from our tent after a fitful night to be welcomed by one of the most awesome vistas I'd seen in my life.

❸ The adventure was worth the pain, and maybe even sweeter because of it.

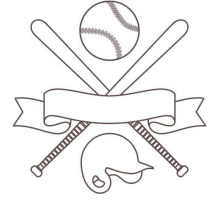

❹ Now that Maia has joined our life, I've missed hiking, kayaking, diving, and ski trips.

❺ We have gone on a few modified backpacking trips and done some car camping with Maia, but like leisurely Sunday brunches and wine-soaked late night debates with friends, high adventure seemed a pleasure of the past.

- a baseball game

- ① Stevie ignored the runner on third and threw a fastball for a strike right down the middle of the plate.
- ② As the ball hit the catcher's mitt, Keith saw Rocco hightailing it towards second base.
- ③ He immediately threw down in the manner instructed.
- ④ The Tiger manager, completely surprised by the contested steal, yelled at his boy on third base to run home.
- ⑤ Before the words completely left his mouth, Eddie raced in, cutting off the throw and fired it back home.
- ⑥ Keith took the throw from Eddie and tagged out the lead runner with plenty of time to spare.
- ⑦ The crowd in the bleachers exploded with applause as the normally hapless Astros had pulled off the play of the game.

- a wave-stricken grandson

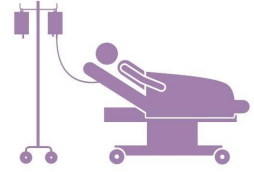

- <1> Be careful, darling!' Grandma shouted.
- <2> 'Don't go too near the water.'
- <3> Yosef turned and smiled at her.
- <4> Just at that moment, out of nowhere, a huge wave crashed on the beach and swept him out to sea.
- <5> Grandma ran to the water's edge, screaming.
- <6> Oh God!
- <7> What has happened?
- <8> Oh no!
- <9> Please bring little Yosef back!'
- <10> For the first time in many years, Grandma prayed.
- <11> She prayed to all the gods she could think of.
- <12> She had never felt so bad in all her life.
- <13> At that moment, another high wave, even bigger than the first one, crashed on the beach.
- <14> She looked down.
- <15> There was little Yosef, sitting on the sand, pale and wet, but otherwise all right.
- <16> He looked up at his Grandma and smiled.
- <17> She gave a sigh of relief, picked him up, and covered him with kisses.

- a boy who feels free after an accident

- 〈1〉 When I woke up, Mother was still on her knees wrapping a cloth around my lower chest.
- 〈2〉 She knew exactly what she was doing.
- 〈3〉 Many times when we were younger, Mother told Ron, Stan and me how she had intended to become a nurse, until she met Father.
- 〈4〉 Whenever she was confronted with an accident around the home, she was in complete control.
- 〈5〉 I never doubted her nursing abilities for a second.
- 〈6〉 I simply waited for her to load me in the car and take me to the hospital.
- 〈7〉 I felt sure that she would.
- 〈8〉 It was just a matter of time.
- 〈9〉 I felt a curious sense of comfort.
- 〈10〉 I knew in my heart it was over.
- 〈11〉 This whole charade of living like a slave had come to an end.
- 〈12〉 I felt the accident had set me free.
