- 145) As the leader of our school club Care for Animals, I organized a volunteer trip to an animal sanctuary for my club members.
- 146) An animal sanctuary is a special place where rescued, injured, or abused animals can live in a safe and caring environment.
- 147) All the club members and I agreed that the sanctuary would be the perfect place to learn about animal care.
- 148) Excited for a new experience, we set out to volunteer.
- 149) Jane, the staff member in charge of animal care, welcomed us with a big smile and gave us a tour of the facility.
- 150) It was amazing to see bears and elephants moving freely in a large field.
- 151) While cleaning the habitats, we checked if there were any hazards that could harm the animals.
- 152) For old elephants with weak teeth, we chopped bananas instead of the sugarcane that they usually eat.
- 153) Spending the whole day helping out with the animals was an incredible experience for me.
- 154) These two baby bears were rescued after they had been raised illegally in a tiny cage on a farm for many years.
- 155) To help the bears restore their natural instincts, we carried out some special activities known as "behavioral enrichment."
- 156) First, we made several holes in a log and filled them with honey.
- 157) As bears are intelligent and curious creatures, they can become bored and stressed when lacking mental and physical stimulation.

- 161) We took part in positive reinforcement training, which involves using rewards to encourage desirable behaviors.

- 162) When I gently touched her foot with a pole and called out, "foot," she lifted it.
- 163) This training helps reduce the stress that animals experience during controlled situations, such as treatment or a health examination.
- 164) On the last day, we were called to the rescue center due to a sudden emergency.
- 165) Some dehydrated birds had fallen out of the sky in the city and were brought to the center.
- 166) Following the veterinarian's guidance, we provided water to the birds while the vets treated their broken wings and legs.
- 167) Caring for the birds, I couldn't help but reflect on the impact of human activities on climate change and how it harms animals.
- 168) I also came to realize that humans are just another kind of animal and share the Earth with all other living creatures.
- 169) Bears are a fascinating group of animals with eight species, all living in very different habitats around the world.
- 170) These bears should have the freedom to live, but they are often killed when they come into contact with humans.
